

Why we collect your information

We collect your name, professional contact details, and clinic information so that we can publish and maintain your listing in our healthcare directory. This helps patients and the community find and connect with registered healthcare professionals.

What information we collect

We may collect:

- Your name
- Your professional title and qualifications
- Your clinic or practice name
- Your professional contact details (e.g. clinic phone number, clinic address, work email)
- Your AHPRA registration number (if applicable)

How we collect your information

We may collect this information directly from you, from publicly available sources such as the AHPRA Register of Practitioners, or from your clinic's website.

How we use your information

Your information will be published in our online healthcare directory, which is accessible to the public. We will only use your information for this purpose unless we are required or authorised by law to use it for another reason.

Accuracy and updates

We aim to keep your information accurate and up to date. If you notice that your details are incorrect or out of date, please contact us and we will update them promptly.

Access and correction

You may request access to the information we hold about you, or request that we correct or remove it, by contacting us at:
